Hoofbeats Policies and Barn Rules

Please keep this information for future reference.

POLICIES RELATED TO LESSONS:

No client will be allowed to ride until all fees are paid and all forms are completed and on file with Hoofbeats (all clients should have in hand a copy of the current "Letter from the Program Director with important information for all program participants," which details the fee schedule, and lists the required forms.) Hoofbeats instructors will confirm class times with clients in advance of each eight-week riding session. Clients are expected to report to the barn for every lesson as scheduled. In the event of inclement weather, Hoofbeats staff will provide un-mounted instruction in the classroom. Please be aware that the lesson schedule accommodates only a limited number of make-up slots, and in cases where a client must cancel a lesson, it may not be possible for Hoofbeats to reschedule. The need to miss a lesson should be reported to Hoofbeats as far in advance as possible, as Hoofbeats may be able to arrange a lesson swap with another client. Please note: clients who fail to report for a lesson without prior notification will lose all make-up privileges. Hoofbeats will not reimburse clients for missed lessons.

ATTIRE:

All riders must wear an ASTM-approved riding helmet when mounted. All clients, volunteers, and anyone else who expects to be around the horses, should wear substantial footwear (paddock boots or work boots are preferred.) Never come to the barn in open-toed shoes, sandals or flip-flops.

TRANSPORTATION TO AND FROM THE BARN:

Due to insurance concerns, Hoofbeats cannot provide transportation to or from the barn. Please do not request rides from any staff member or volunteer.

CHILDREN AT THE BARN:

Hoofbeats recognizes that it is sometimes necessary to bring along to the barn young siblings of a client, or other visiting children. Please consider such added responsibility carefully: a barn environment is not only inherently hazardous for children, but unsupervised children could cause serious accidents if their behavior frightens horses, or distracts riders or staff during a lesson. Hoofbeats requires siblings/visiting children to be under the supervision of their parent (or parent-designated responsible adult), AT ALL TIMES. It must be clearly understood that in the interest of clients' safety, the Hoofbeats staff CAN NOT supervise clients' young siblings and friends.

RIDER PARTICIPATION:

Recognizing that equine related activities hold inherent risks, all new and returning participants will be evaluated by our PATH (Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship International) certified instructors to ensure a safe and beneficial experience. Returning participants will be re-evaluated each year or as necessary for changes in medical, physical, cognitive, and behavioral status. Additionally it is the responsibility of the adult client, or of the rider's parent or guardian to keep Hoofbeats apprised of any changes in the participant's medical, physical, mental, or behavioral status during the course of the riding season.

Please note: horseback riding is contraindicated for some conditions/individuals. Hoofbeats follows the PATH guidelines for precautions/contraindications for physical restrictions of riding. See the PATH guidelines (available in the Hoofbeats office), or check the PATH website (www.pathintl.org/) for detailed information. Riders at Hoofbeats must currently have some trunk control and be able to sit up with little or no assistance (e.g. Hoofbeats does not perform backriding.)

Weight considerations and age restrictions for all riders: maximum weights are listed below, but decisions regarding participation will be based on the availability of a suitable horse relative to the height, weight, cognition, and balance of the participant. The results of a risk/benefit analysis will also be considered. Final decisions regarding participation will be made by the Hoofbeats instructors.

Maximum upper weight limits for riders in the Hoofbeats program are:

- 250 lbs. For an independent rider or a rider who only needs a spotter
- 175 lbs. For a rider who needs a leader only, or a leader and spotter only
- 150 lbs. For a rider who needs a leader and 1-2 sidewalkers

Age restrictions for riders:

- Children must be at least 4 years of age
- Children under the age of 7 will not be considered independent riders and will have one on one supervision with a spotter or leader as needed, and will only ride at the walk.
- Children will not ride independently until they are at least 7 years

VOLUNTEERS:

Volunteers are required to attend an orientation and training session annually (check with staff for the orientation schedule.) Every volunteer will be given a copy of the Volunteer Handbook, which details volunteer duties and procedures, and gives other important and helpful information. Volunteers must at all times abide by the Hoofbeats Barn Rules (p. 3 of this document; also included in the Volunteer Handbook.) Each year, volunteers must fill out a new registration packet of required forms (see the Volunteer Handbook or check the Hoofbeats website for the list of forms required.) Forms can be picked up at the barn, or downloaded from the Hoofbeats website.

BARN RATS:

In cases where older children wish to volunteer their help around the barn, it will be a joint decision between the instructors and the parents/guardians of that child as to whether he or she is mature enough and responsible enough to be present without parental supervision. Unattended young people must follow directions, and act in a safe, responsible manner, or their privilege of being there on their own will be revoked. All Barn Rats receive a copy of the "Barn Rat Code of Conduct," and are required to understand and abide by its terms. Parents please note: it is imperative that, for each scheduled work day, a Barn Rat's drop-off and pick-up times be confirmed in advance with the Hoofbeats staff. In addition, on any day that a parent can not be reached via the phone number(s) on file in the office, the staff must be provided with an emergency contact number. Should a Barn Rat misbehave, the parent will be notified, and will be asked to pick up the child within 30 minutes of the call.
